A Whisper of Geometry, a Touch of Romance, the horizontal version of the Sottovoce chandelier invites you to reimagine space with a quiet yet magnetic presence. Its linear brass structure, composed with balance and restraint, supports a series of black lampshades whose crimson edges glow like embers in the dark. Each element speaks softly, like a secret shared under dim lighting. Sottovoce is a collection designed to accompany, not dominate to create a refined atmosphere where light flows harmoniously, dancing between brightness and shadow. Perfect for dining rooms or salons where minimalism meets mystery.
